Promote Me Pro

Promote Me Pro reviews have been positive. We investigate whether this another excellent product by Sean Donahoe or just hype.

(Newswire.net -- May 27th, 2013) Birmingham, UK -- Today sees the launch of Promote Me Pro, a wordpress plugin that assists its users with getting valuable social media signals out to the search engines. Word press is a blogging and content management system, which can utilize plugins that other people have created taking away the need for the average user to learn hard html and php code.

Sean Donahoe has created this Promote Me Pro plugin and has said “This plugin can be used for affiliate marketers, local marketers and basically anyone looking to drive super targeted social media traffic to their websites.”

This social media wordpress plugin has the following features:

- Allows users full control of all their Social Marketing campaigns
- It will allow users to become expert authorities all across the Internet
- Create Recurring, Scheduled and Broadcast Campaigns
- Users can tap into customers on Facebook, Twitter, Google+, LinkedIn and Pinterest automatically
- Generation of social traffic, leads and new customers
- Create compelling Social Media campaigns
- Expand and lock in customers through social networks and engagement
- Users can increase their market share through this plugin

Information on social media and why it is important can be found here at wikipedia.

Donahoe was asked why he developed this plugin and he said “Many many people and businesses have lost control of their SEO (Search Engine Optimisation) and have lost a lot of income. I know many small businesses that have gone out of business because Google are continually updating their algorithms which effect search engines rankings. What once worked to rank a website on the first page of Google does not work today and social media is needed to ensure that rankings are recovered.”

Donahoe also said “Do not get me wrong, this plugin is not simply about SEO it is also about targeted traffic and website and business owners becoming authorities in their industries. And, this authority subject is very very important within Google.”
