

“COOLEST JANITORIAL SERVICE GUY” IN TAMPA

Bob Ong January 06, 2013

Jal Irani, the founder of Excel Building Services in Tampa demonstrates how to manage a unique commercial cleaning business while giving back to the local community and help those in need. He participates in the local Chambers of Commerce while supplying need organizations with services that they cannot afford.

(Newswire.net January 6, 2013) Tampa, FL- Jal Irani, voted the “Coolest Janitorial Service Guy” in Tampa socializes with many different groups in Tampa Bay and makes it his business to help those in need and that also give back to their communities. Jal Irani, was schooled in London where he learned his professional trade and carried it over to California where he moved his family to Tampa and wanted a life to raise his family and run his own business simultaneously.

Jal Irani is well entrenched in the local communities where he lives with his family of five. He looks for charitable causes that he can give back to while also crafting his janitorial and cleaning company business. As the “Coolest Janitorial Service Guy” in Tampa, one might not readily think of Jal Irani in this vein, however his social and warm interaction in the Tampa Bay community has developed deep and long lasting friendships and relationships that have dovetailed nicely with his business development. While much of his business is based on trust and integrity, his social interactive skills have worked with his business quite well.

As the winner of the past five years of Janitorial Service company of the Year in Tampa Bay, Jal Irani cherishes that title and lives up to the high standards that have held him in such high esteem. He plays tennis in his local community with many of the local residents but also runs charitable golf tournaments that help some of the chamber’s fund raising efforts throughout the year.

A quick wit and wry sense of humor, Jal Irani, as the “Coolest Janitorial Service” in Tampa, establishes relationships with people far and wide with a memorable encounter that people never forget. Contact Jal Irani for more information at: (813) 451-8229 <http://www.excel444.com>