(Newswire.net -- 14, January, 2013) Houston, TX -- The market is flooded with choices of easy to use and convenient protein shakes and supplements. Protein shakes are probably the most popular of all the health and muscle building supplements of all time. Protein is absolutely essential to muscle growth and development. The problem people seem to have with protein is that they can't seem to eat enough of it to get the best results from workouts.

BioTrust Low Carb reviews reveal whether this protein supplement really works.

It is nearly impossible to meet the protein needs of muscle development when people want to bulk up through food alone. Many protein shakes have unsavory 'issues' such as high carbohydrate concentrates, artificial sweeteners, artificial colors, protein from hormone treated cows, sub-par absorption, and undisclosed ingredients that people may be unaware of. BioTrust created their own Biotrust Low Carb Protein Powder; a protein supplement that is a blend of 4 types of proteins, unlike cheap whey protein, and is all natural. The company even hired the industry's top taste experts to create a pleasant tasting shake so people will actually want to drink it.

There are a variety of flavors to choose from – Vanilla Cream, Milk Chocolate, Variety pack...more flavors coming; with no added artificial coloring, sweeteners, or flavors. Watching carbs is especially important when people are trying to lose weight or maintain weight loss. BioTrust Low Carb Protein Powder contains an amazingly small amount of net carbs per serving and its highly potent four protein blend offers a timed release.

Stan Stevenson, a health and fitness reviewer states, "Many bars and shakes run upwards of 30 or more carbs per serving. That amount of carbohydrates is just far too much for the average weight lifter, or person that just needs an added boost in muscle development. BioTrust Low Carb Protein Powder is very low carb and is made with the best ingredients available. This low carb blend that is a truly high end protein supplement will not disappoint. Use this protein shake absolutely risk free and give your muscles a boost without gaining fat from the carbohydrates commonly crammed into other formulas."
