According to recent statistics released, over 75% of all women in America are considered overweight or obese. Can Raspberry Ketones really help for weight loss?

(Newswire.net - January 25, 2013 - Los Angeles, CA)- Furthermore, the study showed medical costs associated with obesity were estimated at $147 billion; the medical costs for individuals who are obese were $1,429 higher than those of normal weights.

Attempting to help those who need to lose weight, RaspberryKetonesWeightLoss.info recently announced the addition of one, three and six month supplies of supplements to accompany their successful Raspberry Ketones diet plan.

Says Ronald Stroth, spokesperson for RaspberryKetonesWeightLoss.info, "Because some people have more weight to lose than others, it only made sense to offer different quantities of this product everyone seems to want to lose weight." The product, according to Stroth, is Raspberry Ketones Max and is the latest weight loss discovery to take television health programs and online health news sites by storm. Says Stroth, "Until now, you'd have to eat thousands of raspberries just to get enough of the Ketones enzyme to help fight fat, but now scientists have isolated that element and extracted it into a supplement that lets you get 300mg of Raspberry Ketones in every serving of Raspberry Ketone Max. In studies on rats, Raspberry Ketones helped prevent the onset of obesity in mice that were on a high fat diet. They also prevented an increase in blood triglyceride following high fat meals. That translates into Raspberry Ketones not only helping prevent the onset of obesity, but also preventing fat storage as well."

Healthy weight loss is always a consideration for those looking to lose weight, says Stroth and he assures this product is safe, saying, "Doctors have always suggested natural solutions for weight loss because they are completely safe and don't have any of the negative side effects that can harm the body extensively. With Raspberry Ketone Max, dieters get the natural solution doctors prefer with a clinically tested supplement that can help burn body fat. Doctors everywhere want you to lose weight and with Raspberry Ketone Max you now have the natural solution to weight loss your doctors recommend."
