FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(Newswire.net -- January 17, 2013) London, UK --TSD Cleaning Services report being busier than ever in the run up to Christmas which they state is expected in at this time year as homeowners and business are keen to have their residences and properties cleaned for Christmas. Being a high traffic time of year with extra customers, friends and family visiting carpets especially need extra attention after Christmas.

Offering a range of cleaning services, TSD Cleaning Services employ highly trained and professional staff who possess a wide variety of cleaning skills at their disposal and TSD are urging customers to book now in order to utilise these skills, carpet cleaning specifically in the new year.

Those booking this service are currently being offered a free bottle of professional carpet spotter when the carpet cleaning service is worth more than £100.

Daniela Sarasakolva, the TSD Cleaning Services Operations manager says, “After the busy Christmas season, both business owners and residential customers find themselves in the position of having carpets and rugs that have seen significantly more foot traffic than usual, which in the wet and muddy weather means that they need swift attention. Rather than waiting for warmer weather and the traditional spring clean we are urging customers, new and existing to contact us asap to book in a January carpet cleaning service to start the year off right”.

Offering a fully insured cleaning service with uniformed and experienced staff to customers in the London area, TSD Cleaning Services are uniquely placed to give local carpets a thorough clean which will revive and refresh them as well as further extend their life. TSD Cleaning Services suggests booking quickly as all cleaning crews will soon be fully booked for January.

Ani Zareva, the founder and owner of TSD Cleaning Services Ltd adds, “January is always a very busy month for us therefore we strongly urge customers to get in touch now to avoid disappointment and to of course take advantage of the current special offers”.

TSD Cleaning Services is keen to help more customers start their new year in a clean and fresh home or place of business. To view the current special offers and see additional information regarding the services that are offered customers are urged to visit the website at <http://www.tsdcleaning.co.uk> or to call 020 8819 9476 for an informal chat and a no-obligation upholstery, carpet and rug cleaning quotation.
