

Upholstery Cleaning - A Call For More Repair and Renovate and Less Landfill

Nick Vassilev January 23, 2013

Upholstery Cleaning

TSD Cleaning Services is committed to helping their customers prolong the life of their furniture and belongs, saving them money and importantly reducing the amount of items finding their way into landfill unnecessarily.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(Newswire.net -- January 23, 2013) London, UK -- TSD Cleaning Services is committed to helping their customers prolong the life of their furniture and belongs, saving them money and importantly reducing the amount of items finding their way into landfill unnecessarily.

The Environment Agency estimates that the UK disposes of over 100 million tonnes of waste every year into landfills. The Environment Agency also predict that the 1500 landfill sites currently in operation within the UK will be full in approximately eight years. TSD Cleaning Services who are keen on helping customers enjoy a clean and healthy home and work environment claim to be concerned at this statistic.

Ani Zareva, the founder and owner of TSD Cleaning Services says, “The amount of rubbish deposited in the UK landfills at present seems unnecessarily high. Our upholstery, mattress and floor cleaning services have been known to significantly prolong the life span of numerous household items that would otherwise have found themselves prematurely left at the rubbish tip. We urge our customers to take advantage of the cleaning services that we offer and make their treasured belongs last longer”.

TSD Cleaning Services’s upholstery cleaning service starts at £31 for the deep clean of a two seat sofa by trained professional cleaners. With specialised techniques used by experienced staff, TSD Cleaning Services are able to visit homes and offices to clean items such as suites, stools, mattresses, office chairs, dining chairs and even curtains. Prices for a dining chair start at just £7 per chair.

Daniela Sarasakalova the Operations Manager of TSD Cleaning Services says, “Being thrifty and frugal has become a popular trend in the UK over recent years. It is heartening to see more people reuse items rather than simply throw them away. We have had many customers over the past month who have asked to have sofas and chairs cleaned in a “last ditch” attempt to breathe new life in them, having decided that if they couldn’t be made to look significantly better that they would be thrown out and replaced in the post-Christmas sales. Fortunately our customers have been thrilled with the results of our upholstery cleaning and will now be keeping their new-looking home items safe rather than sending them to the tip”.

TSD Cleaning Services are keen to help more customers prolong the life of their belongings this month and invite new and existing customers to view the current special offers on their website at <http://www.tsdcleaning.co.uk> or to call 020 8819 9476 for a no-obligation upholstery, carpet and rug cleaning quotation.

For Press and Interviews please contact:

Daniela Sarasakalova – TSD Cleaning Services Manager / Operations Manager

TSD Cleaning Services

7 Atkinson Road

London

E16 3LP

020 8819 9476

<https://plus.google.com/107131204074651237872/posts>