

Applause For Recent UKCPI Appointments and Their Eco-Friendly Future Plans

Nick Vassilev January 24, 2013

House Cleaning

TSD Cleaning Services offer a wide range of cleaning services in and around the London area and are keen to build their reputation as not only providing an excellent cleaning service, for also providing an eco-friendly service.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(Newswire.net -- January 24, 2013) London, UK -- TSD Cleaning Services offer a wide range of cleaning services in and around the London area and are keen to build their reputation as not only providing an excellent cleaning service, for also providing an eco-friendly service.

The UK Cleaning Products Industry Association recently announced three new appointments within the leadership ranks of the council. The new Chairman has been named as Brandon Pilling of ACDOCO who will be supported by two new vice-chairpersons; Steve Elder of Ecolab and Petra Hangweier of Unilever.

The UK Cleaning Products Industry Association (UKCPI) provides leading research and information regarding all things cleaning and hygiene related in both the home and commercial settings. The UKCPI itself represents the UK producers of cleaning products which including everything from laundry powder to carpet cleaning solutions.

TSD Cleaning Services uses eco-friendly cleaning products throughout their cleaning services and as such align themselves closely with the environmentally friendly stance that the UKCIP are well known for.

Daniela Sarasakalova, the TSD Cleaning Services Manager says, “Cleaning is not just about making things look clean, it is also vitally important that our homes and businesses are cleaned beyond where the eye can see. To try to counteract the rise in the number of allergies that people suffer from nowadays we ensure that our teams not only deep clean all areas; that they do so using eco-friendly cleaning products which are effective, better for the health of the clients and others who visit the cleaned area and are better for the environment”.

TSD Cleaning Services have renewed their commitment to providing customers with top quality, hygiene focussed and green cleaning services in 2013 and as such will be watching developments within the UKCIP closely, particularly any developments within the eco-friendly cleaning product and cleaning method sectors.

Daniela Sarasakalova, the TSD Cleaning Services Manager continues, “We have received fantastic feedback from customers over the past year that are all clearly happy with our carpet and rug cleaning services, our domestic cleaning for residential and business properties, our end of tenancy cleaning work and our other cleaning related work. We value feedback from clients as not only does it give us an indication of how well our staff are performing, it also helps us put in place strategies for the future to further enable customers to receive a service that is tailored to their exact needs. When asked, the vast majority of our 2012 customers indicated that eco-friendly cleaning products and cleaning methods were of great importance to them therefore we have pledged to embrace this feedback and continue our efforts, alongside guidelines from the UKCIP in 2013”.

To find out more about the services that TSD Cleaning Services offer customers are urged to visit the website at <http://www.tsdcleaning.co.uk> or to call 020 8819 9476 for an informal chat and a no-obligation cleaning quote.

For Press and Interviews please contact:

Daniela Sarasakalova – TSD Cleaning Services Manager / Operations Manager

TSD Cleaning Services

7 Atkinson Road

London

E16 3LP

020 8819 9476

<https://plus.google.com/107131204074651237872/posts>