

Appliance Repair Spokane Establishes New Online Presence

Mathew Stevens April 19, 2013

Appliance Repair Spokane WA

In order to be competitive in an ever changing market, Appliance Repair Spokane has launched its new website. Their new website will give them the ability to communicate with new customers as well as allowing their past customers the option of contacting them via the internet.

(Newswire.net April 19, 2013) Spokane, WA -- Appliance Repair Spokane hopes to become a more active online entity by launching their new website, appliancerepairsokane.net. The service that provides appliance repair and maintenance in the Spokane, Washington area, went live with this design recently.

Visitors will notice a wealth of changes and new services offerings. Their services remain available to both residential and commercial clients.

What Do They Offer?

Throughout the website, you see a multitude of services and repair options provided by the Spokane appliance repair company. Among them, you find the standard appliance repair and maintenance options offered by most service providers. These services are dishwashers, refrigerators, ice makers, and freezers. However, Appliance Repair Spokane far exceeds the standard norm and provides services for washers, wall heaters, water heaters, and a wealth of other appliances. Whether your appliances are gas or electric is not a problem.

Their skilled technicians evaluate your appliance to determine the cause of a malfunction. They utilize their knowledge and years of experience to ensure proper diagnoses of problems to adequately repair each appliance. They establish whether parts are necessary or whether adjustments are required. If the appliance requires replacement, they can and will help you find a new appliance within your budget.

What's New?

The new Appliance Repair Spokane website offers a wealth of extras. Among them is the Repair Tips page. This option provides expert advice for common hindrances, issues, and potential problems. With this page, visitors may troubleshoot appliances and establish whether a service call is necessary. This advice is posted for everything from dishwasher motors to pumps and more. Most tips feature step-by-step options for diagnosing and fixing simple problems at home.

Their full-service blog offers simple solutions to some common home appliance problems. These updated postings provide insights and helpful suggestions, which may prevent major repairs in the long run and assist you in maintaining your investment. They also aid you in establishing whether it's time to place a service call and offers methods to evaluate potential problems. These exceptional blogs are posted by their team of well-trained experts with years of experience in the appliance repair and maintenance field.

They are open Monday through Friday from 8 am to 5 pm. The business is closed on Saturdays and Sundays. Same-day repair services are available for most major appliances, but you should consult a repair technician for verification. The Appliance Repair Spokane website also offers a contact option for questions and other requests. You simply complete the form and submit, and a technician will respond shortly. Contact them to schedule your next estimate or repair today!

Contact Them Today

Name: Appliance Repair Spokane

Address:

1312 North Monroe Street, Suite F178

Phone: (509) 774-3966

Website: <http://www.appliancerepairsokane.net/>