Local Chiropractor in Goodyear, AZ, is launching a revolutionary new remedy to provide instant relief from chronic and migraine headaches.

(Newswire.net -- August 19, 2013) Goodyear, AZ -- Do you know anyone with chronic headaches or suffers from migraine headaches? Chances are you, or someone you know, battles against headaches regularly. In fact, according to the American College of Physicians, over 45 Million American suffer from chronic headaches each year.

For many people, current headache treatments are ineffective in treating symptoms and can lose efficacy over time. Most people try to alleviate their headaches using over-the-counter medications, prescription medications, resting in a dark room, hot or cold compresses, massages, or even small amounts of caffeine. However, many of these offer limited relief, or worse yet, none at all.

That's why Estrella Parkway Medical Center has taken headache relief to the next level, by offering an FDA-approved treatment program. This new treatment, called the MiRx Protocol, is designed to help those who suffer from constant and/or severe headaches. The remedy works by applying a small dose of nasal spray, which effectively blocks a bundles of nerves that can cause headache pain. Previously, to treat this nerve bundle called Sphenopalatine ganglion (SPG), it took a combination of cue tips and x-rays to locate the regions that were causing the headaches, and then an injection of lidocaine.

Now, using the MiRx protocol, it typically takes less than 60 seconds to get instant relief, with a nasal spray that focuses on the same area, but is less invasive. This new and unique treatment plan is given over a 4 to 6 week period which includes both medical procedures and integrated physical therapy.

This headache relief solution can even effectively treat most of the common headache conditions, like tension headaches, cluster headaches, atypical face pain, trigeminal neuralgia, and even migraine headaches, with or without AURA.

Most people will be happy to hear that the key benefits of the MiRx protocol include quick treatment administration, little-to-no discomfort, and near-instant headache relief. The therapy is even safe for pregnant women and is covered by most major medical insurance and Medicare providers.

So why go to a chiropractor to treat headaches? Headache pain and discomfort might be focused inside your head, but can actually be caused by a number of other issues within your body. Chiropractors are trained to treat a variety of ailments, not just back/joint pain.
