Due to increased business demand and in order to better serve the St Louis roofing needs, Boyster Roofing & Home Improvement has opened a second facility in Fenton. This additional St Louis roofer location will join their existing Arnold office.

(Newswire.net -- September 11, 2013) Fenton, MO -- With the addition of a new Fenton office, those living in the southwestern suburbs of St. Louis, MO near the areas of Arnold and Fenton will now have better access when seeking St. Louis roofing information, repair and construction from Boyster Roofing & Home Improvement.

James Boyster, owner and operator of Boyster Roofing & Home Improvement, has announced the opening of their new St. Louis roofing office in Fenton. This facility joins the existing office located in Arnold and allows for more efficient St. Louis roofer service to those living in the area. The main administrative office has also moved to the Fenton location at 714 Becalyn Drive.

Boyster Roofing & Home Improvement provides free St. Louis roofer inspections and free estimates for basic repair, storm and hail damage repair and new roof installation. The company and all its St. Louis roofing staff are licensed and insured and provide personalized, high quality service at unbeatable rates. They are also insurance claims specialists listed as an Owens Corning preferred contractor.

The new Fenton facility means faster service to area residents seeking roof repair or shingle replacement due to storm, hail, or wind damage, or from such problems as weather rot or leaks. Roof replacements and new roof additions are also now more rapidly provided due to the new location.

Boyster contractors provide free roof assessments and advise on the best and most cost-effective solutions to any roofing problems. The company specializes in insurance claims which offer customers great St. Louis roofing value for their money. Further savings of $150 on jobs over $3,000 can be gained by simply mentioning the company's website (<http://www.betterroofingstlouis.com>) when setting up an appointment for a free inspection and quote.

Owner and operator James Boyster commented, "I am excited about the opening of our new Fenton office because it allows Boyster Roofing & Home Improvement to better serve our area customers. Now, we can provide faster personal assistance to homeowners who need roof inspections, quotes and roofing service because we don't have to drive long distances from our Arnold location. Faster and more efficient service is beneficial for our customers."
