(Newsire.net -- September 27, 2013) Brisbane, Qld - Locating a reliable wholesale furniture supplier willing to hold large amounts of stock makes it much easier for cafés and restaurants to source quality furnishings, including outdoor cafe tables hurry. Nextrend Furniture is a specialist furniture supplier for the hospitality industry.

The ability to offer patrons outdoor café tables as an outdoor dining option can be the ideal way for many establishments to increase traffic and boost profits at the same time. However, it is important that the correct outdoor café furniture is chosen to suit the location and the style to get the best results. This is where it is important to consider selecting outdoor and bar furnitures from a specialist commercial furniture stockist such as Nextrend Furniture. They specialise in providing quality furniture specifically suited to the hospitality industry, which allows them to cater exclusively to the needs of restaurant, café or hotel owners. Being commercial furniture providers, they are aware of the need to carry a large stock holding at any time. This allows them to fulfil orders quickly and efficiently, reducing down times for refurbishments or wait times for complete fit-outs of newer establishments. The team at Nextrend are always happy to discuss particular requirements with all clients. This allows them to more accurately locate the right style and design of furniture required to suit the individual establishment. Nextrend is able to distribute orders Australia-wide, so orders can be shipped out immediately, regardless of where the establishment might be located. They will happily provide an obligation-free quote on any piece of furniture within their extensive range; their prices are unbeatable. If there is a particular style or design of café table or café chair required that they do not have, they will go the extra mile and source it specifically for the client.
