Bathrooms can often be the smallest room in the house and quite a few home owners choose functionality rather than design style when renovating this room. To provide style continuity throughout the house, in addition to raising the resell value, property owners need to pay more attention to the bathroom as doing so can transform what was a bland room into one that will likely increase the value of your home as well as impress friends and visitors. "With the aid of the all-new Frameless Shower Enclosures, one can easily transform the style of a bathroom, presenting it as visually appealing, as well as remaining practical" Charles Denny of Serene Bathrooms declares.

Homeowners should discover the right balance between both the bath and the shower enclosure as a freestanding bath often does not mix well and also enclosures can be intrusive. Corner showers often have the tendency to be overlooked when these products might be much more of a focal point of the room. Walk-in shower enclosures add distinction to a room while providing more area for storage without compromising room in the shower.

Buyers should certainly make the effort to compare the different types of frameless shower enclosures, with options including hinged doors and bi-fold doors they need to determine which works best in the room. "With a wide assortment of Frameless Shower Enclosures readily available at Serene Bathrooms, every single buyer very quickly finds the right enclosure for his or her requirements, design and budget," Mr. Denny continues.

To announce the launch of their new designs and to help customers save money on these new items, Serene Bathrooms is presently running a sale on selected shower enclosures. "Check out the affordable cost on frameless shower enclosures for example, Orca Walk-in Panels or Orca Single Door Offset Quadrants. Don't think twice before looking at other offers for the month as you may discover you can redo your bathroom for lower than what you thought and that money saved can be used for decorative touches which go well with the new enclosure and various other items within the room," Mr. Denny goes on to point out.

The owners of Serene Bathrooms recognize that, although they have actually put a great deal of hard work into their enterprise, they are additionally fortunate in that they have not had to cope with a few of the obstacles others encounter on a daily basis. Because of this, they contribute to a variety of charities, including UNICEF (Children in Syria), Help for Heroes, SPARKS and Action on Addiction. "Customers may be aware of charities in need of assistance that the company is not familiar with. If any buyer has a particular charity they would like to see Serene Bathrooms support in the future, contact us with details so a decision could be taken, where possible. Not only do we run a business here, we live here too and want to make our society a much better place in any way possible," Mr. Denny asserts.
