We Thank our Veterans!

All Seasons Roofing Inc. is giving thanks to all area Veterans with a free inspection and premier discount program. Mike Rivenbark and his team are committed to helping those who have risked everything to keep America safe.

(Newswire.net -- November 25, 2013) -- Wilmington NC -- Mike Rivenbark, President of the family-owned All Seasons Roofing, Inc. knows it takes more than a “Thank You” to give back to the men and women who served in our Armed Forces. As a premier local business in Wilmington, North Carolina, and third generation roofer, Rivenbark is determined to continue his mission to build solid relationships with his clients and community.

“The government has a spotty record for helping vets. Yet they make up 10 per cent of the population of North Carolina. We at All Seasons Roofing believe it’s up to us, business, to offer hands-on help to those who’ve risked their lives for us.”Source

To show support, Rivenbark, has started a “We’ve Got You Covered” Veterans’ program that will supply critical roofing services to those who have served our country, and he’s reaching out to locals. While other businesses have offered discounts, they’re mostly restaurants. Helping out the veterans will be especially helpful this year because, “According to the Farmer’s Almanac, we’re in for cold, snowy Winter here in Wilmington,” says Rivenbark. Source

Cold and Snowy means trouble for home owners and businesses, according to Rivenbark whose company was chosen to appear on TLC’s Designing Spaces and was recently voted Best Roofing Contractor by readers of Star News in the Shorebreak 2013 Best of the Best contest.

The roof damage caused by cold and snow can cause serious problems. “Preparation can make a huge difference,” says Rivenbark. “We at All Seasons don’t like our neighbors facing nasty roof surprises,” he adds.

“Many veterans, especially those just returning home – our friends, our neighbors – are facing a tough re-adjustment and have spent enough time battling inclement weather, which is why we’ve decided to offer them FREE inspections, and Premier Discounts” says Rivenbark. To Rivenbark and the entire team at All Seasons Roofing Inc., it seems only right to insure a good roof over the heads of those who risked everything to keep America covered.
