Beyonce Grants Last Wish Onstage

"The terminally ill girl had always dreamed of dancing with the star Beyonce, which came true when Beyonce brought the girl on stage to make her wish come true," reported the Dudley Media Group article published on December 26,2013.

(Newswire.net -- December 29, 2013) Las Vegas, NV. -- The Dudley Media Group article titled "Beyonce Made Terminally ill Girl's Dream Come True" began by saying, "Earlier this month, a 12 year old Taylon Davis with an inoperable brain tumor made a last wish to dance with Beyonce. The Make-a-

Wish Foundation who specializes in these kinds of events made it happen with Beyonce's management." This is probably the best Christmas present that Taylon Davis received this year, having her last wish granted by the star Beyonce on December 6, 2013 when the terminally ill girl was brought on stage with Beyonce.

The Dudley Media Group article continued by saying, "Taylon sitting in her wheelchair was full of excitement with a special spot in front of the stage. 'I am having so much fun, I can't wait to see Beyonce,' she told the camera while dancing in her chair. Suddenly, Beyonce came down the stage on an aerial hoist, as Taylon moves side to side in her chair with excitement. Afterwards, Beyonce came down off stage to embrace Taylon and they did the duet of Love on Top. Suddenly, Taylon rose from her chair to dance as Beyonce launched into the Destiny's Child anthem Survivor."

This special last wish that Beyonce granted during her Mrs. Carters tour in Las Vegas was documented by being posted on Beyonce's YouTube channel for the world to see. Watch the YouTube video at the right, which has had 1,556,510 views at the time of this press release. Thanks Beyonce for making this special girl's life better, it shows your character and love for other people. The tears of joy that Taylon Davis showed, said it all!
