The Freddie and Sebbie Kick Mats care seat back protectors seemed like an inexpensive alternative to other seat back protectors on the market and with a lifetime guarantee, how could you go wrong?

Well, that's the view of one purchaser, JoPo, who recently purchased the Kick Mats on Amazon.com as replacements to the Brica 2 Pack Kick Mats, black, which were purchased from TRU, and which only lasted a couple of months before "my boys wore through them with their shoes."

Comparing the Brica mats with the Freddie and Sebbie seat back protectors, the consumer notes how easy they were to install and "easily secured with Velcro straps, not an elastic strap like the Brica ones."

Although optimistic about the durability and longevity of the Freddie and Sebbie Kick Mats, JoPo hopes they will withstand the wear and tear of boys whose runners are constantly stepping on them on the back of our seats. "For now though, things look good," says JoPo.

The deluxe Kick Mats are designed to keep one's car seats 100 per cent clean and free from all the stains and scuffmarks left by the kids. The auto-protective seat covers, according to the product's spokesperson, Neil, will fit most vehicles seat.
