Garage Cabinets

Designed to reach out to the DIY market, Garage Cabinets offers plenty of easy-to-use storage solutions for those who need garage cabinetry.

(Newswire.net -- February 26, 2014) South Beloit, Illinois --Garage cabinets are a great way to organize a workspace and keep things tidy in this important space. However, many garage storage cabinets installed by professional companies have an extremely high price tag. With the numerous options in overhead garage storage and standalone cabinets available from Garage Cabinets, there is no reason that the average person cannot enjoy his or her own custom storage area in the garage.

Garage Cabinets offers a variety of sizes for garage cabinets, including:

- Upper cabinets--suitable for hanging near the ceiling and holding lighter objects.
- Base/lower cabinets--suitable for heavier objects; can be paired with upper cabinets to form a set. Also suitable for holding countertops and providing work space.
- Tall cabinets. These floor-to-ceiling models create the perfect space for storing items of varying weights. Available in three depths and two widths to fit anywhere.
- Specialty cabinets. These cabinets offer roll-out shelving that can be customized to hold hundreds of small parts in bins or to function as a trash bin.

With four cabinet box colors and five powder-coated door colors, do-it-yourselfers will enjoy the ability to make garage storage look every bit as stylish as the rest of the home.
