(Newswire.net -- March 14, 2014) Seattle, washington - A latest weight loss and health supplement has been exposed by the Bauer Nutrition named Garcinia Cambogia. The product is a natural blend of the well-known weight loss food items Garcinia Cambogia Extract along with the Raspberry Ketones, and provides the health benefits of both the natural foods.

“Garcinia Cambogia can convert excess energy into usable energy. This means that a person can still eat all the foods and still can control the weight. It helps reduce appetite so that the weight can be further controlled. The product also increases serotonin levels in the brain, helping to stop emotional eaters feel the need to eat all the time, not only that, but it also enhances mood levels” says a health expert while talking about Garcinia Cambogia.

The Garcinia Cambogia by Bauer Nutrition is going to be the massive hit in the weight loss industry since it offers a variety of health benefits along with the natural boost to the weight loss. The product is gaining great reviews from health experts and it is approved medically for its safety and effectiveness.

Garcinia Cambogia, derived from the Malabar tamarind plant native to South East Asia, has risen to fame after a famous health expert featured it. Since the first scientific research revealed the weight loss abilities of Garcinia Cambogia fruit, it is always in the headlines across the nation. Many clinical studies support the weight loss claims of this fruit. The doctor featured it in a health show as the most exciting breakthrough in the weight loss and revolutionary fat buster.

According to the medical studies, extracts of this fruit have many health beneficial abilities. The medical studies found a natural compound Hydroxycitric acid or HCA in the extracts of Garcinia Cambogia Supplement and approved it 100% effective for the weight loss and overall health. Studies found its effect on weight loss and hunger cravings.

The HCA is found effective to boost the serotonin level and suppress appetite. According to the research and studies, the HCA also blocks the fat formation process in the liver by inhibiting the enzymes and forces the calories to be used as energy. The latest supplement Garcinia Cambogia Extract by Bauer Nutrition is formulated with the Garcinia extracts with 60% HCA therefore it definitely holds all the health benefits of HCA.
