Flip Flops for Kids with Interchangeable Charms

Kidsâ€™™ footwear company, Mottos, is pleased to announce the launching of their new and innovative line of footwear for kids. This is in the form of flip flops for kids which come with interchangeable charms that they can use to customize their look.

(Newswire.net -- October 13, 2014) Princeville, HI -- Kids' footwear company, Mottos, is pleased to announce the launching of their new and innovative line of footwear for kids. This is in the form of flip flops for kids which come with interchangeable charms that they can use to customize their look.

Said to help young children express themselves, wearing these flip flops allows children to collect and trade a number of different one-of-a-kind, trademarked and patent pending snap in, snap out Mottos charms. Initially, they receive two charms with the purchase of each pair but are free to collect any additional number of available charms that are on offer. The design and style of the kids' footwear is said to enhance their creativity due to the variety of the charms that can be used with the flip flops. Since children communicate how they feel better in actions rather than words, it is believed that this innovative flip flop, in conjunction with the charms, can help them to freely express their mood while helping to develop their artistic sides. The charms are interchangeable due to the slots that are pre-designed on the flip flops which are said to make it easy for kids to change them but at the same time, holding the charms firmly in place to prevent loss.

The flip flops are described as being made with durable, high quality materials that won't wear out or break easily. They are also said to be designed for comfort, especially between the toes and have an arch support which is not seen in most flip flops for kids. Additionally, they are considered to be ideal for everyday wear since they do not show dirt. Persons who have gotten the flip flops have been commenting favorably on the item with comments such as, "My youngest daughter received her flip flops first and LOVED them right away." – Aloha Dawn.

Another reviewer by the name of Rebecca also commented, "My girls love the little character charms that come with them. They're so cute and easily snap into the holes on the sandal straps."

Currently available on Amazon, the Mottos flip flops for kids are shipped with a custom storage case with a snap board for the charms and a convenient backpack for transporting them around. Persons who wish to purchase the footwear for their kids are also able to use a handy size chart in order to select the right size.
