(Newswire.net -- November 4, 2014) Tempe, AZ -- Vemma® Nutrition Company awarded former Olympian, Tim Maloney, with top honors at the Chris Powell 12-Week Bod•Ä“® Challenge winner reveal event. Vemma Founder and CEO BK Boreyko and Vemma Founder Karen Boreyko made the announcement at Verve Central at Vemma's

Home Office in Tempe, Arizona on September 26, 2014.

Maloney, a former alpine skier, participated in the U.S. Deaf Alpine Skiing Championships from 1978–1988, as well as the 1979–1987 World Winter Deaf Olympics in the Alps Mountains in Europe and Norway. He was also a member of the U.S. Ski Team in the 1979 Winter Pre-Olympics in Lake Placid, New York.

The Chris Powell 12-Week Bod•Ä“ Challenge honors two finalists in each category — Men's, Women's, Couple's and Team. Maloney lost a total of 33 pounds during the 12 weeks and continues his healthy lifestyle.* Maloney was a top finalist among thousands of entrants. He received a $1,000 cash award, plus a makeover retreat, and a professional photography and video session.*

“I was skiing and competing in different Olympic sports, and two years ago, I had to replace my left knee, because I was having problems with it. A year later, I had to replace my right knee, as well. After my surgery, I started gaining weight and started to feel depressed. I decided to join Vemma and use their Bod•Ä“ products with the Bod•Ä“ App, which helped me tremendously,” explains Maloney.
