

Mottos Boys' or Girls'™ Flip Flops Released in Time for Christmas

M Marketing December 10, 2014

With the Christmas holidays being a time of year when children look forward to receiving all kinds of gifts, including footwear, a new line of girls'™ flip flops is expected to make a big impact during the holidays.

(Newswire.net -- December 10, 2014) Princeville, HI -- Launched by Mottos, a company that provides expressive tools to children and parents, the flip flops are unique in that they feature interchangeable charms.

Seen as innovative items that can help children creatively express themselves, they are not only for girls but also boys. Already, a number of shoppers have been making mention of the flip flops being suitable Christmas presents. "This was a really cute item! It's actually a Christmas present for my nephew and while it's a bit big now, it will be great when he gets a little bigger," said Sassy Gal, a verified Amazon reviewer who bought the flip flops in early November.

Made from the highest quality materials and featuring an ergonomic design, the boys' or girls' flip flops are said to always have a comfortable fit between the toes and have an arch support not seen in most flip flops for kids. In addition, they are shipped with one-of-a-kind, trademarked and patent pending snap-in, snap out Mottos Charms. Each order comes with two charms but there is a large number of additional unique charms which can be bought and traded among children. These charms are believed to improve creative expression in children as it gives them a chance to appreciate different characters, which can be associated with their moods and mode of dress.

In trying to ensure that customers get the correct size girls' flip flops, whether for Christmas gifts or otherwise, Mottos includes a handy size chart on their Amazon store and instruct shoppers to order flip flops that are one size larger than usual. This strategy seems to have been working so far as most shoppers have expressed satisfaction and left corresponding 5 star reviews.

The boys' or girls' flip flops from Mottos are currently available on Amazon and for people wishing to get them as Christmas presents, they are able to get free shipping with each order of two sets or more.
