All Seasons Roofing specializes in roofing, but is by no means limited to it. The business is also the parent company to ASR Sunrooms, which installs sunrooms, lanai rooms and other enclosures.

(Newswire.net -- January 8, 2015) Wilmington, NC -- All Seasons Roofing has installed and repaired roofs all over Wilmington, NC. Though best known for roofing, the company also builds enclosures. These include solariums, Eze-breeze rooms and Florida rooms.

Why Homeowners Want Enclosures

These kinds of enclosures are designed to include numerous windows. This allows the home to receive a great deal of natural light. Residents and visitors can see the outdoors without leaving the comfort of the home.

Some enclosures are built as brand new rooms. Others, however, are built on existing patios or porches, or around swimming pools. Some versions, known as four seasons rooms, are insulated. This allows them to be used all year long.

Mike Rivenbark, the owner of All Seasons Roofing, noticed that many homeowners also wanted enclosures. He expanded All Seasons Roofing to include more services that would meet this need. Such efforts eventually led to the creation of ASR Sunrooms, a company that specializes in this field.

The Goals of ASR Sunrooms

ASR Sunrooms was designed in the same mold as its parent company. By harnessing the expertise of skilled workers, ASR Sunrooms is able to design a wide variety of enclosures. Company culture emphasizes the importance of fulfilling client expectations. No two enclosures are designed in the same way.

Types of Enclosures

ASR Sunrooms is able to install a variety of different enclosures. These include:

- Lanai Patio Enclosures
- Florida Rooms
- Pool Enclosures
- Glass Enclosures
- Sunrooms
- Eze-Breeze Rooms
- Solariums

ASR Sunrooms can cater to many different kinds of homeowners. Enclosures can vary considerably in their layout and how they fit with the rest of their house. While glass is often used, other homeowners may prefer Eze-breeze panels, which are similar to vinyl windows.

The ASR Sunrooms Advantage

By creating ASR Sunrooms, All Seasons Roofing can continue to focus on its core services while expanding into the enclosure market. Mr. Rivenbark sees this as a way to increase his company's versatility and flexibility.
