A new company BQ Shield has designed a set of accessories for delicate and prized grills that serves to preserve the material of grill grates and keep them looking as good as new for a long time.

(Newswire.net -- May 25, 2015) Louisville, KY -- Many people are serious about grilling and have even gone to the great extent of investing in premium grills. Some of these grills are plated with chrome, nickel and so on. These prized grills require special treatment to preserve the quality of the grill for many years to come. The grilling accessory by BBQ Shield is seen as the ideal tool for facilitating this.

The recently released pair of barbecue grill mats by BBQ Shield has been proven to be the best shield for keeping grill grates looking new for a long time. Grillers expect to use their grills whether or not they are made from expensive materials. If they wanted something for show it is more likely that they would get a vintage grill or a souvenir size grill. It can be painful, however, to see the quality of a good and expensive grill decay in short time.

Sticky food, grease, dirt and bacteria buildup as well as scrubbing of grills can cause erosion of the quality of a premium grill. Placed on grill grates, the grill mats by BBQ Shield prevent food from coming in direct contact with the grill thus eliminating the possibility of getting food stuck on grates. The company announced that scrubbing of grills would be eliminated completely with the use of their non-stick barbecue grill mats.

The grill mats offer slow cooking of meats and other food since the mats act as a buffer for direct heat from grill. At the same time, the grill mats prevent dripping of grease or sauces from food into the fire which in turn prevents dangerous fire flare-ups.

A pleased customer, Lindsey A Vitalo, shared, “These worked better than expected, we couldn't be happier. They are perfect for grilling vegetables, seafood, or anything else you want to grill but don't want falling thru the grill and want easy clean up. In the past I've always used my kitchen pans or tins and the mess was awful or I had to use tinfoil and dealt with holes, that problem has now been solved.”

People can protect their investment with the grill mats by BBQ shield's premium set of grill mats which have been made available to online shoppers across the world via Amazon.
