EnergyGeeks announces partnership with Corporate Knights in order to accelerate solar adoption for Ontario homeowners.

(Newswire.net -- October 25, 2016) Toronto, Ontario --Today, EnergyGeeks announces a partnership with Corporate Knights to facilitate a shift to expand the solar power capacity of Ontario homes, furthering a mutual goal to build a more sustainable future. Solar adoption helps consumers mitigate rising energy costs, increase the value of their home and earns them a return on investment while also helping the planet.

Under the partnership, Corporate Knights will provide advertising space to EnergyGeeks to market its services. All new EnergyGeeks clients who come through Corporate Knights channels will receive a free 2-year subscription to Corporate Knights magazine.

Founded in 2002, Corporate Knights is a Toronto-based media and research company focused on clean capitalism. Corporate Knights magazine is the premier publication reporting on sustainability at the intersection of business and society. As a "Magazine of the Year" winner in 2013 from the National Magazine Awards in Canada, Corporate Knights is best known for rules-based transparent rankings of corporate sustainability performance, including the Best 50 Corporate Citizens in Canada and the Global 100 Most Sustainable Corporations in the World.

"Partnering with Corporate Knights makes sense because of their long-standing commitment to drive holistic sustainable change that benefits both the planet and the bottom line for homeowners," says Mackie Hilborn, EnergyGeeks CEO. "We are committed to making solar adoption affordable, simple, and profitable for Ontario homeowners, and Corporate Knights' partnership recognizes that commitment."
