From the suburbs of Newark, Delaware to the urban city streets of Los Angeles, food trucks can be found all over the United States and at any hour of the day. Originally made popular on college campuses as late night eateries, food trucks have become a great way to make money without having to invest in a brick and mortar storefront in one location. With a food truck, you can travel and make money no matter where you choose to go. You have to be careful though as you will need to make sure that you have a vendors license that will allow you to make and sell food in multiple locations. Food trucks are so popular that they have made their way over to Asia. This article will highlight some of the trendiest businesses in Hong Kong this year!

1. Pizza delivery service. One of the trendiest companies to launch this year include pizza delivery services. Hong Kong is one of the best places to be an entrepreneur and to try out various business models. The idea of starting a pizza delivery service has taken the country by storm and is now one of the most popular meal options among young and old.
2. Cupcakes! Have you ever been at a party or an event and felt that it needed a little something extra to make it a bit more festive? You are not the only one. Apparently, there is quite a marketplace for cupcake delivery service as it is one of the newest and hottest trends in Hong Kong in 2018. Whether you want a specialty cake or a dozen cupcakes, you can order your cake online and have it delivered directly to your home or business. You can now easily liven up any party or social gathering with a cake by ordering from the convenience of your smartphone.
3. Online delivery service. From cupcakes to pizza and everything in between, one of the most popular ways to earn money in Hong Kong is by being employed by an online delivery service. If you own an online delivery service, you have made a great investment. More and more, people are choosing to stay home and have their food delivered to them. Because of this trend, delivery services such as Uber have been busy hiring more drivers and making a great deal of money. The concept is smart as the Uber driver goes to a specific restaurant and picks up a customer order and then delivers it to the customer for a small fee. The customer pays a nominal service charge and tips the driver for their service and everyone is happy. The driver makes good money, the customer gets their order without having to leave their home, and the business owner makes a fair cut of the profits as well.

Hong Kong is known for its entrepreneurial spirit. If you want to start a new business but are not sure of how it will go over, try starting it in Hong Kong. If it isn't successful there, chances are it won't be successful elsewhere.
