

Municipal Finance Loans Companies via Direct Lending

Jason Lorio September 04, 2013

Municipal Loans

Municipal finance loans are discussed on this Live Google Hangout for the first-time ever, as this group of professionals goes deep into the strange and mysterious world of municipal financing. Join us, as we make history in the world of Wall Street.

(Newswire.net -- September 4, 2013) Washington, DC --

Municipal Finance Loans Live Google Hangout - First Time in History

MUNI proudly presents our first ever, live-syndicated press release using Google Hangout to discuss municipal finance loans. The MUNI team is broadcasting through multiple media outlets, using the Einstein Marketing Platform (EMP), exclusively developed by Transcended Marketing LLC. The purpose of this live broadcast is to explain and discuss funding avenues for municipalities, using municipal finance loans. Get Municipal Financing has great lending capabilities through the network of private lenders. MUNI is able to match said lending options to a variety of business types, sizes, and needs; we build a direct, lasting relationship between MUNI's private lenders, municipal stakeholders and decision-makers, along with creditworthy business owners. Prospective clients are able to expand their company for a variety of purposes, including but not limited to commercial real estate and to infrastructure improvement services.

Municipal Financing

Why use Municipal Financing for your business? There are several reasons; the first (and arguably most important) being that said municipal bonds are non-personal, or non-recourse funding options. Get MUNI can say with confidence that individual, personal assets are not at risk when signing the final documents, respectively. Secondly, MUNI's tenured, private lenders will evaluate the size, scope and risks associated with your given market; providing the precise appropriations needed to develop your business, municipal, or investment-grade entity to unprecedented levels of growth and success. Lastly, the MUNI lending options are tax-free, providing your community with the greatest amount of resources necessary to accomplish improvements and expansions.

The professionals at MUNI believe in improving the quality of life in the United States by providing communities with the resources needed to create jobs and opportunities for its residents. MUNI differs from other municipal lending institutions in that we operate by direct, face-to-face interaction with their clients; going straight to the source of financing, no middle-man and no smoke and mirrors. The Capital Finance direct lending relationship, sale-leaseback financing vehicles, and its ability to accommodate extensive arrays of agreement types, including sale-leaseback financing, differentiates the firm from the competition. Call 202-350-0258 today and see what MUNI can do for your municipality!

GetMunicipalFinancing.com

1717 Pennsylvania Avenue

Washington, DC 20006

202-350-0258

sales@getmunicipalfinancing.com

GetMunicipalFinancing.com