How To Make Money Blogging

An internet marketing conference sponsored by the Empower Network has generated a lot of excitement for novices anxious to learn how to make money online by blogging.

(Newswire.Net -- March 19, 2013) Minneapolis, MN -- Attendees of a recent educational conference learned how to earn money online from a couple of internet marketing mavericks who made their millions online. Each of these new millionaires have impressive rags to riches stories and attribute their fortunes to successful internet marketing.

Most any rags to riches story will cause people to take notice. But when someone moves from poverty to wealth in only a few years it gets a lot of people's attention. David Wood and David Sharpe didn't know each other in their poor days. They were both penniless. Each had hit his own bottom, but decided they had enough. Each decided that the internet was how they would turn things around. And each of them individually orchestrated massive financial gain online. David Wood did it by blogging. David Sharpe did it with paid ads.

The two then met as successful internet entrepreneurs and became friends. They decided to combine forces and teach what they knew about ways to make money online through a series of courses online. Thus started the Empower Network. According to the founders, the program designed to empower others by giving them the skills they need to make money online. The founders claim their primary motive is to create a lot more internet millionaires, just like themselves.

A recent conference sponsored by the Empower Network attracted people from all walks of life with the same goal. The unifying theme was a determination to learn how to earn money online and do so big time. A number of attendees were interviewed midway through the conference and seemed exuberant with confidence.

A notable participant at the conference was Jesse Eker, son of T. Harv Eker. (T. Harv Eker is the author of the best selling non-fiction Secrets of the Millionaire's Mind.) Jesse shared his reasons for being at the conference. He said that he has been looking for opportunities his whole life, and that after just 20 minutes of watching the training at the conference he "went full all in". He said that what he liked about making money on the internet is that it can be automated so that he could live his life as he chose.

Other participants mirrored this desire for financial freedom and enthusiastically expressed their confidence in having found the path to its fulfillment. For more information on how to make money blogging visit <http://www.EmpowerNetworkAbundance.com>
