(Newswire.net -- June 10, 2013) Portland, OR -- “This has been such a fun ride. I wrote my first romance novel as a ‘what the heck ... let’s give it a try’ kind of thing and romance readers from around the world loved it as much as I enjoyed writing it. It has launched a whole new career for me,” AJ smiled. “I love the interaction with the readers. We just finished celebrating 50,000 downloads of the ‘First Class’ novels and our Facebook followers made it an exciting event. By posting comments, pictures and sharing YouTube videos with their friends, they earned points towards winning a Kindle Fire and other great prizes.”

“When I emailed one of the winners to let her know she’d won an autographed copy of my book, she just couldn’t believe that the author was personally contacting her to get her address to mail the book. We’ve exchanged a few emails now and I feel like I have a new friend and that’s the best part of being a self-published romance author,” Harmon beamed.

“I’ve read romance novels since, well, since I could read. I grew up wanting to marry Mr. Darcy,” AJ smiled. “And over the years countless romance novels have graced my nightstand sending me off to happy dreams. I am still in shock to think that my books are doing that same thing for someone else. It’s crazy! But I am very grateful for this opportunity, and to the readers who are buying my books and loving them. Every time I get another 5-star review I just grin. This is a dream come true.”
