Online Marketing Has Been Turned On Its Head

Johannesburg, Gauteng, 6/23/2013 — What does a really successful online marketing program need to include? Low cost? Teach in plain and simple English and most of all Produce Realistic Results with out the technical savvy in mind. Vick Striezheus and his mastermind team of like minded marketers have been developing a coaching program to educate aspiring online entrepreneurs on what it takes to run and create a successful and sustainable online business.

Being associated with like minded marketers who are ready to assist fellow members when the going get tough or when you feel lost is a major aspect of success within this group. There are no barriers to assistance here and help is always at hand - when you have over 3000 active members who are willing to assist you in any sphere of online marketing.

Since the idea formed in early December 2012, Vick and his students have grown into a formidable team that has got the industry talking. The vision and goal of the group is to have everybody up and earning at least 5000 dollars per month by following precise instructions on time tested marketing strategies. Being a member will allow you to get private access to software tools and video trainings that give step by step training which will allow you to reach your targets.

Students of the Big Idea Mastermind are encouraged to share their success stories on their private FaceBook page, thus encouraging fellow members not to slack on their own progress.
