Comfort and Style in Commercial Bar Stools

Creating a sense of ambience within any café, restaurant or hotel can be done by choosing the right range of furniture to suit individual requirements.

(Newswire.net -- September 16, 2013) Brisbane, QLD – Creating a sense of ambience within any café, restaurant or hotel can be done by choosing the right range of furniture to suit individual requirements. For many establishment owners, this means deciding on café tables and chairs that are not only functional, but also must suit the surrounding décor.

As more establishments begin to embrace the idea of outdoor dining, it is necessary to find café chairs that are durable enough to withstand exposure to the elements. However, these chairs should also be comfortable enough to ensure that patrons enjoy their visit.

Likewise, offering seating against the service counter or at the bar will require commercial bar stools. The wide variety of styles and designs offered by wholesalers should mean that it is possible to tie in the theme and design of the stools to the surrounding furniture and theme of the establishment.

The extensive range of hospitality furniture available from Nextrend Furniture is designed to offer café and restaurant owners the widest possible choices in furnishing. They source only the best quality items available and ensures that there is always plenty of choice in terms of style and design.

As specialist wholesalers, Nextrend Furniture always carry a large amount of stock in their own warehouses, which enables them to fulfil any orders placed as quickly as possible.

Nextrend Furniture’s team strive to provide the best possible personalised customer service, aiming to answer any questions and offering free quotes on any of the stock in their range.
