When it comes to finding once-fired 9mm brass or once-fired 45 ACP brass, it is usually easy to locate. The 9 mm is one of the most popular handguns ever made, and many people like the size and heft of a .45 as their choice of gun. However, it is hard to beat the Smith & Wesson .40 caliber for both strength and usability. Combining the heft and power that give it strength with a lighter weight and kick than a .45, this gun is one of choice for many law enforcement agencies as well as for home protection and target practice.

Now, Bobcat Brass announces a sale on all Smith & Wesson .40 caliber once-fired brass. Buyers can save 15 percent on bulk orders, including 500-round packages, nickel 500-round packages and 1000-round packages.

These packages contain not only top quality once-fired brass that has been cleaned and polished to a "like new" appearance but also a small overage percentage. Bobcat Brass realizes that a small amount of once-used brass simply will not be suitable for reloading, so every order is overfilled to ensure buyers receive their fair share of once-fired brass.

For those who like the sturdy dependability of the .40 caliber Smith & Wesson, Bobcat Brass offers a great deal on once-fired brass. This is a great way to stock up for the future with a bulk order of brass that will keep reloaders busy for a long time to come.

Along with bullets for reloading, Bobcat Brass also has fantastic prices on accessories such as Trijicon scopes and Acog scopes. The leader in bulk once-fired brass can also provide other accessories and items related to shooting for enthusiasts who love a good bargain as much as they love firearms.
