When people hear the word “coaching”, usually sports comes to mind. What does a coach do for a sports team? He or she makes them better, each person as an individual contributor and then as a team. The coach guides their efforts to a common goal and the plan of action to meet it successfully. The same applies for any other type of coaching, in whatever area in which it happens: personal, business, relationships etc.

For over a decade, Peter Shaw has been coaching people to improve their relationships, their business careers and their personal life. He has an innate ability to peel back the layers of situations and corresponding responses to reveal the root cause of the problem. From there, he guides, instructs and nurtures you through a plan and exercises to overcome the cause and find success.

Peter Shaw delivers quick, long-lasting and profound results on a consistent basis by working with you, not for you. You are the catalyst for the change in your life; Peter coaches you through the steps to make that happen.

When it comes to personal coaching, Peter can help you release your emotional baggage from the past and eliminate those fears and limitations that keep you from becoming the person you want to be. He can also help you banish phobias and anxiety that stand in your way. You can create the life you want.

Success in business is within your grasp. Peter can unlock charisma you did not know you had, unleash your creative and innovative spirit and teach you how to communicate those effectively. Moving up the proverbial ladder requires a comfort with public speaking, communicating successfully and sharing your ideas with confidence. Peter can help you be persuasive and influential in your field.

Relationships seem to be something that everyone wants but few know how to acquire and be a part of effectively. Join those few with Peter’s help. He can show you ways to make dating easy while increasing your confidence and self-esteem. Part of being in a successful relationship requires setting and maintaining comfortable boundaries, an area many struggle with. Peter can help.

Coaching with Peter Shaw can be scary and exciting, but always rewarding.
