Matthew O'Brien March 24, 2014

Family-owned Invader Pest Management of Phoenix becomes Sentricon® certified which coincides with company's 20-Year Anniversary.

(Newswire.net -- March 24, 2014) Phoenix, AZ -- Invader Pest Management announces the newest weapon in its arsenal: EPA-approved Sentricon® Termite Colony Elimination System with Always Active™ Technology. A trusted name in pest, termite and weed control, 2014 marks Invader Pest Management's 20th year serving the greater Phoenix area.

Sentricon® is the only termite product-service to receive the coveted Presidential Green Chemistry Challenge Award by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), one of the federal government's top environmental honors, and is listed as a Reduced Risk Pesticide under strict EPA requirements. Sentricon® is also Forest Stewardship Council-certified, a certification which provides a credible link between responsible production and consumption of forest products,

Sentricon® has been proven to eliminate termite colonies, effectively eradicating a colony by introducing a food source (contained within a regularly-monitored Sentricon® subterranean bait station) that will eventually disrupt the insect's ability to molt, resulting in death to the individual – and soon, the rest of the colony.

“The addition of the Sentricon® system is going to be great for our clients, especially as we enter high termite season,” said Fred Willey, President of Invader Pest Management. “Most people want to maintain the integrity of their homes and landscaping – they don't want their property drilled or altered to accommodate pest control; others are very concerned about chemicals. The Sentricon® system addresses these issues because it's self contained within subterranean bait stations, and regularly monitored by our highly-trained and certified staff. Clients are never affected by the product – except by becoming free of termite infestation.” To learn about Invader Pest Management's services and package bundles, visit www.invader.net or call 623-435-0228.
