(Newswire.net -- June 8, 2014) Coeur d'Alene, ID -- Kitchen-Classics announced the release date for their new line of 100% Certified Organic foaming hand soap. Their new foaming soap will be sold exclusively on Amazon and www.sinksoapdispenser.com. The soap will be available for purchase in mid-July, 2014.

Suzanne Weir, Co-Founder of Kitchen-Classics, said, "Foaming hand soap has been available for quite some time in the north American market, and sales trends confirm that consumers love this product. However, most of the foaming soap is only available in disposable plastic soap dispensers that most consumers discard in our landfills once the soap dispensers are empty. Not only that, but there are very few choices available for organic foaming soap. In July, we will offer a solution to both of these issues."

Kitchen-Classics recently announced their response to the disposable plastic dispensers by offering an eco-friendly alternative to the disposable foaming soap dispenser. This alternative is their new line of stainless steel built-in sink soap dispensers for foaming hand soap.

In addition to these new built-in dispensers, the management team at Kitchen-Classics decided to take one step further and offer their customers 100% certified organic foaming soap. "We wanted to give the eco-minded consumer the combination of an eco-friendly soap dispenser and a chemical free soap," said Weir, "Our organic soap is a refreshing alternative to what is currently available on the market, and we are confident that once our customers try our new organic soap they will never go back to any other soap. It's that good."

In mid-July, consumers will be able to purchase the Kitchen-Classics 100% certified organic foaming hand soap in a variety of scents, including Lavender, Sweet Grass, Unscented, and Citrus at <http://sinksoapdispenser.com>.
