Who is the Best Answering Service in Shreveport Louisiana? According to a recent survey and vote, it's Jewel Sandessgoot's Best Answering Service Shreveport LA.

Sandessgoot's superior telephone receptionist system emerged as the clear victor, meaning that they are the premium telephone answering service in Shreveport Louisiana, winning over other Google-search identified telemessaging services in Louisiana. Although opinion was split in the initial discussions about the better telephone receptionist, and virtual office receptionist, among the voters, when the online vote to choose a winning virtual office phone service was put to the test, the results were close to unanimous.

The vote to discover the superior Telephone Answering Service and virtual office in the area was conducted among members of the Marketing Mastery Alliance, widely known by small company owners for their online marketing-training webinars.

When Alliance members were questioned by telephone and email about the vote for receptionist support, views varied widely. Some members cited personal experience in justifying their choice, whereas others reported feeling surprise that a single company was so generally appreciated. "You'd think that among 24 hour answering services, our telephone receptionist and virtual office business support services, there would be many opinions," one member ventured, "But not in this case!"

The company's founder, a former receptionist herself, Ms. Jewel Sandessgoot, said on the phone that she'd been unaware that the company had been nominated for the vote. "We were all pleasantly surprised, and it's gratifying to be acknowledged. However," she said, "the credit really falls to our round-the-clock receptionists, who provide the superior service that impresses clients and callers alike. They are the real heroes. Anyone can provide 24-hour service, and with careful attention, prompt answering, but to consistently pleasant voices and handling of client calls, that's what provides the virtual office magic."

How They Won the Award

Sandessgoot's Answering Service was chosen as the Best Telephone Answering Service Shreveport LA by Alliance members was due in part to acknowledged phone support of the thousands of Louisiana entrepreneurs, and across the United States.

The Marketing Mastery Alliance, a marketing and business interest group, hosts and sponsors free Profit Jet business-training webinars for answering service and other business owners.

The founder states that only one in a hundred virtual office applicants successfully completes the training course, and that superior voice quality, and higher quality training is what clients and their callers find so satisfying, in the messaging and phone receptionist services that cover the phones after-hours and off-site telephone answering service.

She was overheard saying, "As we work at our phone answering, we work hard at becoming a key team member of our clients' business operations, and according to client reports, we've been successful in capturing more sales leads for contractors and tradesmen who's new business rises or falls depending upon how efficiently we capture their incoming sales leads for new contracts. Our medical professionals and attorneys have also been generous in their praise for the caring way our virtual receptionists protect their patients and clients, and act quickly in emergency situations."
