J.T. Professional window cleaning services opened its doors to clients today after months of preparation. A new video accompanies the new business launch which is a revamp on an older business called TJ window cleaning.

Check out the new video “J.T. Window Cleaning New Plymouth” here.

John, owner of the new business stated: “The business was originally set up by myself and a business partner Tamati. After getting a number of clients the business was sold to another cleaning company as the workload became too much for two people. However after a long consideration we thought it was time to open doors again, albeit with a new name. We specialize in the residential and commercial window cleaning area and have many years experience. Our services are very professional.”

J.T. Window cleaning hopes to be the best window cleaning business in Taranaki New Zealand and has had a number of videos created to help brand its business.

“We felt video was the way to go”, states owner John, “As its so easy to watch a video rather than read a webpage. We have already had alot of interest shown in our local videos and believe this is the best way to go.”
