Within Miami-Dade County, SoBeVIP is pleased to announce the release of its company website, which outlines the luxury car rental services it provides to Miami area residents and visitors.

(Newswire.net -- September 11, 2014) Miami Beach, FL -- R.S. Schmitt, owner of SoBeVIP, is pleased to reveal the release of its company website, which outlines the exotic car rental services it provides to residents and visitors to the Miami-Dade County region of South Florida.

Within the tourist Mecca and thriving industrial center of Miami and its surrounding areas, Schmitt thinks providing a means for people to rent luxury cars for special events or pleasure is a valuable service to the community. "Just because the average person cannot afford to purchase a Porsche or Ferrari outright doesn't mean the experience of driving an exotic car should be out of reach," Schmitt says. "Our services allow virtually anyone to see what it's like to drive and be seen in a luxurious car, and the new website will help spread that news."

Driving a luxury car, such as an Aston Martin or Lamborghini, holds great appeal for much of the population. These vehicles come with features rarely seen in other cars and are designed for first-rate handling and performance. That's why exotic cars come with a high price tag for purchase and are generally viewed as status symbols. As recently as September 8th, CBS News reported how a Los Angeles man was so eager to procure a 2014 Ferrari 458 Spyder that he stole it not once but also a second time from the impound lot.

With the release of SoBeVIP's website, Schmitt and other members of the company hope to spread the message that theft is not the only way to claim the experience of driving a luxury car as one's own. The Miami-Dade County exotic car rental services allow customers to choose the package to fit their needs and budgets with rental times ranging from as little as an hour to an indefinite span. The website also describes its add-on resources to further enhance the experience, such as airport pick-up and chauffeur service.
