(Newswire.net -- October 9, 2014) Dublin, VA -- Vital Brandz is pleased to announce the availability of its Premium Leather Cleaner and Conditioner on Amazon. Vital Brandz has made a special leather conditioner formula that cleans and conditions leather materials at the same time.

The white milky substance is said to remove aging lines and watermarks from worn out leather. With a volume of 8 ounce per bottle, the premium leather cleaner and conditioner is potent enough to restore the newness of look and feel of all types of leather products, excluding nubuck leather.

Leather can become dry and cracked over time. The moisture is removed from the leather largely because of exposure to the sun. Premium Leather Cleaner and Conditioner includes active ingredients that restore the natural moisture of the leather as well as provide protection from the sun.

Leather bags, car interiors, boots, holsters, furniture and so on are made good as new when this premium leather conditioner is applied. Leather is said to be restored to its natural leather glow without leaving an oily or sticky residue on the fibers of the leather. Manufacturers of the product assure that this leather conditioner is suitable for use on vinyl material as well, and gives the same results.

This leather conditioner by Vital Brandz is said to be potent enough to manage the toughest job and gentle enough to be used on delicate leather at the same time. The special formula essentially helps to protect leather materials from soiling which usually occurs as a result of dirt build-up and water spills.

The scent of the cleaner itself is minimal and goes away shortly after drying. Depending on the intensity of the job, one application using a lint-free cloth or a microfiber towel, should leave leather looking naturally shiny and feeling clean and supple.

A high-end product like Premium Leather Cleaner and Conditioner, made in the USA, that offers a brilliant two-in-one feature gives consumers great value for their money.
