G. Robert Meger Aesthetic Plastic Surgery in Phoenix Arizona Is Enjoying An Increased In Customer Praise For Liposuction Treatments

(Newswire.net -- October 9, 2014) Phoenix, AZ -- Dr. Robert Meger of Phoenix, AZ, is pleased to announce an increase in liposuction customer satisfaction over the past few months. The clinic obtained this information from the feedback forms that customers usually complete after the procedure. According to Dr. Meger, a Phoenix plastic surgeon, customers say that they are very pleased with the quality of work and the results as well as the care that they receive in the clinic.

Liposuction, which is also referred to as lipo or lipoplasty, is a procedure that involves getting rid of extra fat around the abdomen, buttocks, thighs, hips and even the chin. Although most of the clients who ask for the procedure are women, Dr. Meger says that they have handled a good number of men who want to have their breasts reduced. Enlarged breasts in men are quite common (a condition known as gynecomastia).

We asked Dr. Meger if the clinic uses any particular procedure. “As a matter of fact we do. We use MicroAire Power Assisted Liposuction (PAL) units to perform liposuction. PAL incorporates a special cannula, which uses tiny, rapid vibrations to break up fat cells so that they can be suctioned out of the body. The vibrating tip used in PAL is safer because of its small, precise motions. It allows us to target specific areas without damaging surrounding tissue. PAL is performed using the tumescent liposuction technique; an anesthetic liquid is injected into the treatment area for smooth fat transfer through the cannula and out of the body or in conjunction with SmartLipo and VASERLipo.”

The clinic also offers other common cosmetic procedures. Among them are breast enlargement, breast reduction, body contouring, facial surgery, Botox, chemical peels, cellulite reduction and many more. Clients come for these procedures from far and wide -- they have performed procedures on people from Arizona, California, New Mexico, Nevada, and Utah. The doctor also told us that they have experienced a lot of demand for liposuction in Scottsdale. He thinks that the reason for this could be increasing consciousness on how much plastic surgery can revolutionize looks and give individuals increased confidence.

The Doctor is assisted by 3 highly qualified individuals - Nancy Knoll, Gail Gomez and Beth Hadden. Between them, they have more than 30 years experience in patient care. They are all professionally qualified to handle different cosmetic procedures.
