Romance Author Giveaway by AJ Harmon

Contemporary romance author, AJ Harmon, is celebrating the 2nd anniversary of her debut novel, her USA Today Bestseller and Amazon Top Rated romance collection recognition with a social media romance novel giveaway.

(Newswire.net -- November 4, 2014) -- In November of 2012, AJ Harmon published her first romance novel after a challenge from a co-worker and since then she's had a lot to celebrate; 12 books published, an Amazon Top Rated romance novel collection, and a USA Today Bestselling boxed set - First Class Family.

"I love interacting with romance readers on social media," Harmon began. "So I've decided to use social media as the platform for my First Class to Fun, Romance and Prizes - 2 Year Anniversary Celebration. You can enter the giveaway on my website or Facebook page. Social media makes it easy to play, post and share to earn points and extra chances to win prizes in the random drawing on December 1st."

AJ has taken the "TWO" theme seriously by doubling up on all of the prizes. Two Grand Prize winners will each win a $100 Amazon Gift card. Two 1st prize winners will each receive the complete collection of First Class Novels in paperback, autographed by the author (9 books and a bonus novella – a $100 Value). For a complete list of prizes and rules visit her website.

"Everyone wins!" AJ continued. "For the entire month of November you can digitally download First Class to New York for free from Amazon, iTunes and Nook as part of the celebration. Free books and great prizes - what could be more fun?"

"I never planned on being a romance author," Harmon explained. "But I love it now and really enjoy getting to know and interacting with my readers on social media. I get to create happily ever afters for a living and give my fans a quick escape from the same ol' same old for little while and I love it. This giveaway is just another way I can bring joy into the lives of romance readers, plus it's a lot of fun!"

With hundreds of romance novels published each week, AJ Harmon's accomplishments are noteworthy. Only a handful ever become an Amazon Top Rated book and even less make the USA Today Bestseller list. To have accomplished so much in just two years is nothing short of a phenomenon.

Harmon isn't resting on her laurels. She has announced two more books to be published by February 2015 and has deeply discounted the digital boxed set of First Class Novels for the holiday gift-giving season to only $9.99, in hopes of earning a spot on The New York Times Bestseller list, a great value for all 10 love stories that are part of this First Class Family and a big savings of $21.93 for romance readers who are always looking for a hot book to warm up a cold fall evening.

Romance readers from around the world have left hundreds of five star reviews for this international bestselling series. First Class Family has been Amazon's Top Rated Romance Novel Collection for fourteen weeks and counting.
