Badger Anodising (Birmingham) Ltd., a leading provider of anodised aluminium and metal polishing services, celebrates its 30th year of providing quality workmanship.

(Newswire.net -- January 29, 2015) Birmingham, West Midlands -- Badger Anodising (Birmingham) Ltd., a leading provider of anodised aluminum and metal polishing services, celebrates its 30th year of providing quality workmanship and excellent customer service. Under managing director Andrew Law's supervision, the company has grown into a reputable anodising and metal polishing specialist firm that many businesses in U.K. trust.

Badger Anodising saw its humble beginning as a metal plating company in the jewelry quarter in Hockley. In 1985, Andrew Law acquired it from the previous owner and developed a more diverse customer base. Within five years, the company turned into a successful enterprise with fifteen full-time staff.

Furthering the company's growth in 1993, new premises in Hockley Street and a soldering business were purchased as a means to expand and compliment the services already available. Five years later in 1998, the business was relocated to a purpose-built factory in Digbeth. Through the years, the firm continued to grow into what it is today: an established and reputable anodising company in the Midlands.

Today, Badger Anodising (Birmingham) Ltd. is a leader in the industry and maintains superiority through quality accreditations by the IMS International. The company has always lived by their ethos of customer satisfaction and the highest level of service. For years, countless clients and businesses have enjoyed highly beneficial and long-standing partnerships with Badger Anodising.
