(Newswire.net -- February 20, 2015) Scottsdale, AZ --McCarthy Law, an Arizona based law firm, announced that it has expanded the firm geographically. McCarthy Law helps families find debt relief who have found their financial world turned upside down in a still challenging economy. Many are still struggling under the weight of credit card debt, medical debt, and student loan debt. Attorneys and staff at McCarthy Law negotiate with creditors to significantly reduce the balance creditors claim their clients owe while eliminating any additional interest and fees. Credit card companies and banks are quick to raise interest rates and lower available balances with even one late payment, ignoring the years of on-time payments. Sometimes these past due accounts result in a lawsuit. McCarthy Law believes that the advice from an attorney, whether they have been served or not is important. Lawsuits that are ignored result in default judgments, and allow creditors garnishment options and other remedies that are scary and leave the client with very few options.

McCarthy Law now has debt settlement attorneys in 14 states and 90 cities across the United States and plans to continue their expansion. These states include California, Texas, Florida, Arizona, Georgia, Ohio, Illinois, Colorado, Washington, Maryland, Nevada, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Massachusetts. "There is a great need for the type of solution we offer, and is a great alternative to bankruptcy", says Kevin McCarthy, the managing partner. "This continued growth will allow us the opportunity to help more families who are struggling with credit card debt, medical debt, and private student loans, to be able to live debt free."
