

Total Paintball Gear Announces New Tippmann A5 Upgrade Parts And Accessories

Chris Lemersun February 22, 2015

If you have a Tippmann a5 that you've been wanting to upgrade in some way or another then take a look at the new selection Total Paintball Gear has lots of new mods, upgrade kits and parts that will allow you to customize your a5 into an elite marker.

(Newswire.net -- February 22, 2015) -- Whoever owns a Tippmann A5 can now upgrade it into a better marker by adding new parts like a stock, flashlight, sight, grip, silencer and underbarrel grenade launcher.

Total Paintball Gear announces the availability of Tippmann A5 upgrade parts and accessories. The announcement is directed towards current owners of the Tippmann A5 Paintball Marker. The goal is to let them know that they can now acquire top-quality Tippmann A5 upgrade parts and accessories from <http://www.totalpaintballgear.com/tippmann-a5-parts-upgrades/>.

The upgrade parts and accessories are intended for two main categories of people who own the A5. The first category is those who would like to improve the functionality of their marker. This includes those whose markers have malfunctioned, and those who simply desire better performance. For such people, the upgrade parts can help their marker to achieve more speed, accuracy and durability.

The second category is those who would like to improve the look of their marker. This includes those who desire to pattern their markers after real-life tactical weapons, as well as those who prefer futuristic designs. For such people, the upgrade parts and accessories can help them to make their A5s look exactly like they want.

According to sources at Total Paintball Gear, Tippmann A5 owners can use these upgrade parts and accessories in two ways. On the one hand, they can replace the current parts of their markers (e.g. triggers, barrels, grips etc) which more state-of-the-art parts. On the other hand, they can attach other extra accessories (e.g. flashlights, sights, etc) onto their markers in order to provide more functionality. The end result is that their markers will wind up much better in look, functionality and usability.

The company has stocked a large collection of Tippmann A5 upgrade parts and accessories. Some of the items in their collection include the very popular flatline barrel shown here <http://www.totalpaintballgear.com/Tippmann-Flatline-Barrel/> or different types of barrels (sniper barrels, rifled barrels, recon and tactical barrels); triggers, stocks, grips, sights, flashlights, magazines, silencers and mounts. Others include handguards, rails, bipods, mod kits and underbarrel grenade launchers. The entire list of parts and accessories can be viewed from the Total Paintball Gear website, <http://www.totalpaintballgear.com/tippmann-a5-parts-upgrades/>.

The upgrade parts and accessories are of the highest quality possible. The majority of them are official spare parts which are released by Tippmann – the parent company which manufactures the A5. A few of them are produced by third-party companies. However, even these are made to the high standards which are usually associated with Tippmanns. Therefore, whoever acquires any of these upgrade parts be confident that they will work perfectly with the A5.

Ultimately, Total Paintball Gear's collection of upgrade parts and accessories offers the perfect opportunity for anyone who wants to improve their Tippmann A5. Whether the marker is broken and needs fixing; functional but needs a performance boost or mundane looking and needs a face lift, the owner can find the perfect solution from the upgrade parts and accessories. The company is currently offering the various upgrade parts at discounts of up to 30%. Therefore, whoever wants to upgrade their A5 should make the most of this opportunity.
