Surf City Recovery

Surf City Recovery is an alcohol and drug treatment facility that focuses on comprehensive clinical and holistic approaches to help clients reach sustained recovery. They offer a Christian centered recovery program to help their clients long-term recovery.

(Newswire.net -- February 24, 2015) Huntington Beach, CA -- Surf City Recovery (SCR), a drug and alcohol rehab center in Orange County, utilizes a number of different methods to help their clients rehabilitate from drug addiction and alcohol abuse. With a range of services covering everything from intervention to recovery, SCR believes that spiritual restoration is a vital component for a successful recovery. With their voluntary Christ centered recovery program they will assist their clients in reclaiming their lives, rediscovering hope and gaining the skills they will need for a real world, long-term recovery.

The faith based program at SCR was put in place for anyone that is looking to recover from addiction while also growing their relationship with Jesus Christ. The rehab facility's education recovery program applies the 12 steps with Christian principles to help open up a relationship with God, whether it be brand new or faith that has been restored. SCR as seen at <http://www.surfcityrecovery.com/> will work with their clients to ensure they have a time for prayer, devotions and Biblical study, as well as offer them one-on-one counseling, group counseling and clinical care. By reflecting on New Testament teachings, their clients learn that people get well through community, not by themselves. By reinforcing the spirit of each individual and showing the strength and importance of connecting to something greater than ourselves, SCR helps individuals not just recover from their addictions as seen at <http://www.surfcityrecovery.com/treatment-programs/alcohol-rehab/> and <http://www.surfcityrecovery.com/outpatient-drug-rehabilitation/>, but grow spiritually and emotionally.

Sandy Lopes, SCR's Spiritual Care Coordinator, has been a part of the addiction recovery community since 1980. Sandy, a certified life coach, earned her bachelor's degree in psychology from Vanguard University and is in the process of getting her Drug and Alcohol Counselor CATC III certification. She serves as Vice President of Women in Ministry for the Southern California District of the Assemblies of God and, among many other accomplishments, has counseled countless women and men going through the recovery process towards an enhanced relationship with God.

About Surf City Recovery: Surf City Recovery, located in Huntington Beach, California, is a certified outpatient Alcohol and Drug Treatment Program. SCR provides different levels of treatment services that include Intervention, Detox, Partial Hospitalization and Intensive Outpatient and Outpatient Recovery Services. SCR services are administered by licensed doctors, therapists and certified addiction counselors experienced in all aspects of successful recovery from substance abuse to addiction. Utilizing a comprehensive clinical and holistic approach, SCR uses their proven therapies to help those who suffer begin living happy and useful lives.
