Les Grube Memorial Design Award Contest

Architects and contractors are encouraged to submit applications as soon as possible to be considered for the CLFMI Les Grube Industry 2016 Award.

(Newswire.net -- January 20, 2016) Columbia, Maryland -- The Chain Link Fence Manufacturers Institute (CLFMI) has announced that it is now accepting applications for its 2016 Les Grube Memorial Design Award contest. The Award includes a uniquely-designed plaque and cash awards of $2,500 to the designing architect and $1,000 to the installing contractor and is given for the project which makes the best and most unique use of chain link fence materials.

The 2015 Award was presented to Bruce Dees and Associates for their design, and the Sea West Construction Company for their installation, of the Browns Point Athletic Field Project in Tacoma, WA (see attached description). Previous winners of the award include Pritzker award-winner Frank Gehry, Venice, CA; Arai/Jackson Architects, Seattle, WA; and Don M. Hisaka and Associates, Cambridge, MA.

To qualify for the Les Grube Memorial Design Award, the nominated project must:

1. Employ an innovative use of chain link fence materials (fabric, framework, and/or gates) on a commercial or industrial project.
2. Be conceived by a professional architectural or engineering firm.
3. Be installed by a professional fence contractor

Architects and contractors are encouraged to submit applications as soon as possible to be considered for the 2016 Award.
