

Medical Spa Search Resource Launches

Brian Hanson January 29, 2016

Med-Spas is a brand new website that helps people learn more about the different medical spas in their city and which one might be right for them.

(Newswire.net -- January 29, 2016) Seattle, WA -- A new website built to help people find the right spa to visit has gone online today.

The Med-Spa website offers information, tips and advice concerning different medical spas in Washington State.

The site's publisher, Samantha DeMars, said this new site was put together to help men and women browse a few of the top spas in their town and then help them choose one to visit.

"We built this website for anyone who is interested in visiting what is commonly called a medspa," stated DeMars, "But it is a little more focused on the type of person who isn't regularly visiting one. We hope to help that person out a bit by showing them the different choices they have."

"A medspa visit can mean different things to different people," continued DeMars, "While some people go to a medical spa to get a massage or other type of muscle or body treatment, many visits are more serious and involve some type of skin treatment, cosmetic injections, hair removal, fat removal or acupuncture."

"Some people go to a spa regularly, but a lot of visitors only go on special occasions," she said, "The ones that attend as part of a special occasion will usually go in a group, often as a couple or other kind of small group, such as a wedding party or a group of family members. Depending upon what you are getting done there, going to a spa for a couple of hours can be either a boring medical appointment or a relaxing treat."

Spa Visits Are Often Given as Gifts

While most people book their own spa appointments, DeMars said that many spa visits are given as gifts. She stated that a portion of her site visitors are actually looking for a spa to purchase a gift certificate from and then give it to someone else.

"Lots of people who go to a spa for the first time are beneficiaries of receiving a gift certificate," DeMars said, "And once someone goes for the first time, they often really like it and end up turning into a regular visitor. On the other hand, there are others who consider a spa visit to be a bit too indulgent or too costly to do regularly."

"There is no rule that says you have to go to a spa. You can go your whole life without visiting one," concluded DeMars, "But they can offer some terrific benefits and some people really like them. It's up to you to decide whether you'll go or not."

DeMars added that because her site is still rather new, many of the towns listed on the site don't have specific listings yet, but they will soon. If you would like to learn more, you can visit <http://www.med-spas.com>.

About Med Spa

Med-Spas.com is a new online resource designed to help interested people learn more about the different types of medical spas in their area.

Med Spa

1715 NW 58th St
Seattle, WA 98107
United States
Support@med-spas.com

<http://www.med-spas.com/about-us/>

Source: <http://newswire.net/newsroom/pr/00091708-med-spa.html>