(Newswire.net -- April 13, 2016) Las Vegas, Nevada -- With some of the most popular spring and summer music festivals quickly approaching, fans having trouble finding tickets events can turn to Ticket Jackpot (www.ticketjackpot.com). The privately-owned ticket agency, based in Las Vegas, offers a range of tickets to festival events such as Lollapalooza, Coachella, Bonnaroo, Burning Man, and many other multi-stage music festivals. Many of these events tend to sell out quickly, leaving music lovers in the cold. The ticket reselling agency is one of the industry's best sources for hard-to-obtain passes to concert venues, including the crowd-favorite summer festivals. "Our company specializes in selling tickets that other agencies don't have available," says Matthew Berry, a spokesman for the firm. "From the Sasquatch festival to Austin City Limits, we have tickets available now." Festival-goers, especially in the summer months, can be exposed to fluctuating weather conditions, and the professionals at Ticket Jackpot have some tips to stay healthy throughout long days enjoying their favorite bands. Keeping hydrated is perhaps the most crucial aspect festival attendees should keep in mind, taking the time to drink plenty of water between shows. Layering clothes can be beneficial, too. While some of the summer music fests are quite hot during the day, temperatures can drop as the sun sets. Concert goers should dress comfortably for maximum enjoyment. "Don't forget to bring sunscreen and to use it liberally," adds Matthew. "The summer sun can do a lot of damage when you're enjoying your favorite bands."

The company uses its extensive network of industry contacts, such as concert venue owners and promoters, to obtain tickets to popular music, sporting and performing arts events throughout the United States. Each ticket sale is backed by the company's buyback guarantee, which means that the full purchase price of tickets is returned if the event is cancelled due to weather or other factors.
