Coyle Reproductions, Inc., a company offering large format printing services recently relocated to a brand new facility in Brea, California.

(Newswire.net -- August 24, 2016) Brea, California -- Coyle Reproductions Inc., a business that provides large format printing services, has recently moved to a brand new purpose-built facility in Brea, California. According to the company, the new facility is an ultra-modern, state-of-the-art building that was designed to especially meet the shifting requirements of the printing industry.

“We have built this brand new facility around work-flow processes, expediencies and razor sharp efficiencies that will further reduce costs for our clients,” says Coyle Reproductions. “Our passionate pursuit of lean manufacturing processes, our philosophy of continuous improvement, and a dramatic shift in technology has provided us the opportunity to right size our business for the benefit of our clients.”

Coyle Reproductions is a family-owned business that was founded in 1964 by Frank T. Cutrone. With an aim to provide brand experiences that turn shoppers into customers, the company takes advantage of lean manufacturing processes to deliver exceptional results while reducing the costs for their clients. They have always gone the extra mile to make the necessary investments to keep their competitive edge, such as acquiring the finest printing equipment and software in the market. Because of the company’s strong dedication to innovation and quality, they are able to stay up to date to the latest technological advances in the industry. Unlike their competitors, Coyle Reproductions’ solutions and services are all offered in-house, saving their customer’s time and money.

Coyle Reproductions’ large format screen printing services revolutionized large printing in the 1960s and have continued to lead the industry since. Among the solutions they offer with this technology include large banners, large format graphics, POP displays, window graphics, standees, store décor and movie banners. As a hybrid printing company, they also specialize in digital and offer services in wide and narrow format printing, dye sublimation, eco solvent printing, grand format printing, digital flatbed printing, and latex printing for printing on a wide variety of fabrics and rolled substrates. Committed to consistently improving, they have evolved their services into a high quality process using film that offers higher resolution printing for their clients.

The number of markets the company serves has increased since their foundation 52 years ago. Some of these markets include retail, quick service restaurants, out of home and transit, entertainment and value added resellers. The company is expected to grow further and tap into more markets in the following years.
