PetTravelCenter.com, an online pet store specializing in pet travel supplies is celebrating their 10th year and has reached over 1000 Facebook likes.

(Newswire.net -- October 21, 2016) Surf City, North Carolina -- PetTravelCenter.com, an online pet store specializing in pet travel supplies, has just reached two new milestones. The company is celebrating their 10th year in business this year and has successfully garnered over 1,000 likes on Facebook.

“We are so happy and excited about reaching 10 years in this business,” says the owner of PetTravelCenter.com. “We are very passionate about helping our fellow pet lovers get what they need to ensure a safe and fun travel experience with their pets. To show our utmost gratitude for their support, we will continue to provide superior quality service and keep finding ways to serve them better.”

The company was established to specifically meet the needs of pet owners who want to share their love of travel, sports and recreation with their pets. Understanding the challenges that pet owners have to face when traveling with their pets, PetTravelCenter.com provides all the resources necessary for a safe, convenient and enjoyable trip or vacation. They offer a full range of products for traveling with pets, including pet crates and accessories; bike baskets, trailers and accessories; life jackets and ramps for water activities; pet strollers; dog backpacks, collars, harnesses and leashes; pet beds; apparel for pets; pet playpens; pet ramps and stairs; and even health and safety products such as calming aids, first-aid kits and grooming products.

PetTravelCenter.com provides information for pet owners who will be flying with their pet, including a section for airline pet policies listing all the things they need to know before flying. They offer important information about international pet travel as well, and have even provided a full outline of the steps pet owners have to take to be able travel with their pets internationally. In addition, there is a section on the website called, “Tails from the Road”, encouraging customers to share their pet travel experiences.

“Our mission is to provide the most reliable information and resources for people traveling with their pets, and to offer safe and dependable product solutions that will make the pet travel experience fun and easy,” the owner adds. “We go above and beyond to provide excellent service, and our top priority is our customers’ satisfaction.”
