Safe Landing aims to protect our most vulnerable populations from a dangerous life of addiction and undue suffering.

Safe Landing opens a private rehabilitation facility for adolescents to combat the growing trend of substance abuse among teens.

(NewsWire.net -- January 8, 2018) Miami Gardens, FL -- The most underserved demographic impacted by the substance abuse epidemic in the United States are adolescents. According to recent studies, most adults who experience addiction begin experimenting with and abusing illicit substances during their youth. Often before the age of 17. Each day young lives are lost to overdose due to a lack of resources and outreach.

To rectify this situation, Safe Landing has opened a private treatment facility in North Miami, specifically for treating adolescents at risk. As one of the first private adolescent treatment centers in Miami-Dade County, Safe Landing is determined to protect the most vulnerable of our population from a life of addiction and unnecessary suffering.

A Safe Landing representative shares these comments, "By endeavoring to reach people early in the development of a substance abuse disorder and help them heal before years of chaos and pain, we attempt to minimize the prevalence of addiction across all age groups going into the future. Confronting the issues now and instilling better coping mechanisms at a younger age allows us to greatly improve the chances of long term success. The younger adults and adolescents that we treat today will become our future. It is our responsibility to make it clear to them that there are other options to drinking and drug abuse. Too many of the adults we see entering rehab now were once children who were never given the chance to see a different path. Our mission in opening Safe Landing is to break that cycle."
