Dr Silvia Panitch incorporates both western and eastern modalities in the treatment of her patients, and is known for her high quality healthcare services. She believes that many diseases can be prevented or reversed, and the specialist team at Lakeview Integrative Medicine works hard to ensure patients get the best results.

The practice was founded in 2002 by Dr Panitch, and is located in Chicago, Illinois, in the heart of Lakeview. The aim of the specialist team is to provide comprehensive medical care for men and women using a functional and integrative approach.

With this in mind, the team can partner with their patients to ensure they get the best results. The focus of each treatment and service is on trying to find the root cause of any condition.

With dementia being such a global healthcare problem, it's important to find any way possible to combat the effects of memory loss. Over 30 million people are estimated to have symptoms of Alzheimer's or dementia, with many more likely to be in the pre-symptomatic phase, which can take decades.

The team at Lakeview gives patients a brain health questionnaire, which will lead to an appointment with Dr Panitch, where all the pertinent information will be discussed.

Patients will go through a series of tests and get a personalized program created for them, including diet, exercise, prescription, supplements and lifestyle changes.

The practice states, "Our brains are degenerating very fast and nobody is looking into early signs and symptoms which could be signs of neurodegeneration. We need to start early. We have been trained by Professor Bredesen in the Recode report (Reversing Cognitive Decline) and have created different protocols which we use successfully."
